1. [REDACTED] - PLC) I briefed Alice Stevens, Executive Secretary in the office of Representative John J. McFall (D., Calif.), on the status of the case of [REDACTED] (see Journal Item #1, 11 July 1974). I told her that we should be hearing final word from the field in a few days and I will let her know as soon as possible. She gave me a copy of the letter from [REDACTED] the constituent, dated 5 March 1974.

25X1A 2. [REDACTED] - PLC) Prompted by an inquiry from [REDACTED], on the status of pending legislation to liberalize the mileage and per diem benefits, I met with Bill Jones, Staff Director, Subcommittee on Government Activities, House Government Operations Committee. According to Jones, the Subcommittee will hold brief hearings on the House bill very shortly. He was certain that the Congress would pass a bill this session, but due to Watergate and other Committee matters of higher priority he could not predict exactly when it would pass. [REDACTED] was advised.

3. [REDACTED] - LLM) Jim Calloway, Counsel, Senate Appropriations Committee, called twice. First, to review the contents of an aide-memoire for the Chairman which he was preparing in connection with this afternoon's briefing of the Intelligence Operations Subcommittee in which Calloway outlined the draft bill and the status and background of the Marchetti case. And second, to be assured that the Director would be able to respond to the specifics of the Proxmire letter and that we were prepared to provide a substantial intelligence briefing in addition to discussing the proposed legislation and the order in which these matters were raised would cause no problem.

Guy McConnell, of the Committee staff, called to request five copies for the Subcommittee members of our Intelligence Sources and Methods legislative package. He said he would return them following the session unless the Senators wanted to retain them.
